Insurance Times Events – An Update (as at 12th January 2021)

While the rollout of several vaccine options has undoubtedly shed some much welcome light at the end of the Covid tunnel, there's no escaping the fact that we're still navigating our way through uncertain times and that the pandemic continues to affect many aspects of our business and social lives.

With your safety and wellbeing of paramount importance, we will continue to review and refine plans for all our 2021 events, but with an eye on current UK Government Guidance, we wanted to take this opportunity to share our outline calendar of key dates* and events.

Insurance Times Webinars

Our popular, sponsored webinar programme will continue across 2021. Further information on dates and topics will be published on the events page of the Insurance Times website once confirmed.

Insurance2025 – Tuesday 20 - Thursday 22 April

Seizing the opportunity to do something different, we're delighted to reveal that Insurance2025 will be re-configured for 2021. Whilst digital transformation has driven the content and debate of this event in previous years, there are many challenges that brokers need to manage and digital transformation is only part of the story. FCA rulings and new regulation; transitioning to risk advisor; understanding the changing 'wants' of the post pandemic customer; and managing a hybrid workforce are just a few key topics we'll explore.

The event will be delivered online, over three days, with a tailored audience focus each day – Personal Lines (Tuesday 20th), Commercial Lines (Wednesday 21st) and the Industry as a whole (Thursday 22nd).

An outline of the event can be found on the website and further details on sessions and speakers will be published in due course. Meanwhile, you can register your interest here to ensure you don't miss any updates.
